BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, inferior, adulterated, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 Wall Street New York.

A LIEB. Surr.—Austin is dull, and a lawyer named D. L. Truman proposes making it lively by bringing a suit for libel against the Rev. Mr. Connel. Connel Truman thinks he has been damaged to the extent of $10,000 by an article in the Rev. Mr. Connel, but the chances are 99 out of 100 that a jury will think differently in the matter.—Silver State.

Mat. McCabe, of New Brunswick, Ill., offers to pay five dollars to any person troubled with bloody flux, who will take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy according to directions and does not get well in the shortest possible time. One half of a 25 cent bottle of this remedy cured him of bloody flux, after he tried other medicines and the prescriptions of physicians without benefit. Mr. McCabe is perfectly safe in making this offer, as more than a thousand bottles of this remedy are sold each day and it has never been known to fail in any case of colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea or bloody flux, when the plain printed directions were followed. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Perhaps the local medical students, who furnished the statistics, regarding the ages of the patriarchs of sacred history can answer the following: How was it that Methuselah was the oldest man who ever lived, yet he died before his father?

The residents of Chinatown have been hard at work trying to "scare away the devil," for the past week. The music of their band, and the explosion of firecrackers has no effect, and the APPEAL would suggest that they import some Virginia City girls to assist them in frightening away his Satanic Majesty.

One of Boulanger's followers in Paris told a correspondent of the London Times that the General's condemnation only assists his cause and outlines his future policy as this: "He will secretly go to Paris spread a mysterious watch-word among the population, appear on horse back some fine morning at a point unknown to the police or the Government, but known to his supporters, and followed by a mob like that of Gare de Lyon, overwhelm in an hour the headquarters of the Government in Paris. He will take possession of the Elysee, the Chamber of Deputies, the Hotel de Ville and the Ministere, and will be master of Paris."

Pixley in the last Argonaut gives a list from memory of the duels fought in the early days in California numbering twenty-five in which fifteen men were killed and eleven wounded, and grimly adds: "If the press and supervisors would fight now it is to be hoped that some of each would get killed." Pixley further questions whether if the old rule were to be established whether it would not be better for society and make the newspapers more decent. We believe it would, though the world is tending to the point where duels will be unnecessary. Even now newspaper anathemas do not count unless some scribe or some cause deserves them.

The California duels were most of them necessary at the time. Because of them and because of their peculiar savagery California was saved from having her soil soaked in blood in the great civil war. The men from the North and the South had learned to understand each other and both were careful not to do anything which would precipitate a conflict.—Salt Lake Tribune.

DEATH OF CARLO MOTTA.—Mr. Carlo Motta died suddenly yesterday morning. He had not been well for several days, but had been working in his shoe shop. Mr. Langevin stayed with him last night and about four o'clock went out to get some medicine for Motta; when he returned, Motta appeared to be asleep; after waiting about half an hour, Mr. Langevin went to give him the medicine and found him dead. The cause was evidently heart disease. Mr. Motta was born in Italy, and was a man of more than ordinary education, besides being a good musician and singer. At one time he owned a large boot and shoe manufacturing establishment, but business troubles caused him to lose this. He then moved to San Francisco, and then to Virginia City, being well and favorably known in both places. Mr. Motta was about 49 years of age and came to Carson about four years ago.

HORNLESS CATTLE.—If a farmer wishes hornless cows he need take no knife, saw or other implements to deborn them. W. Brazelton of Montecello, Ia., writes to the Philadelphia Press that a penny's worth of caustic potash applied just as the horn is starting, when the calf is a few weeks old, will stop all horn growth and do no injury at the time or after to the animal.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—E. J. Parkinson of the Carson Triplane, who has been effected with paralysis for a number of years, was induced to try the Brown-Sequard experiment in the hope of getting relief. Dr. Fox injected the elixir and his arm is said to be badly swollen clear to the shoulder and blood poisoning is feared. Poor Ed. seems to have more than his share of the ills of life.—Gazette.

Cough and Cough!! and Cough!!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

SIGHT TRANSMITTED BY WIRE.—Thomas A. Edison announced the other day that he is at work on a new invention by which sight as well as sound may be transmitted by electric wire. It seems, however, that a young German named Korzel has anticipated him. The Centralblatt for Electrotechnik gives an interesting account of an exhibition recently made by this gentleman, in which two of his instruments in different cities were connected with a telephone wire. The features of the person standing at one end of the wire were distinctly seen in a glass plate at the other end, and a larger type in a newspaper held before the instrument in one city was easily read in the other. Everything seen was greatly reduced in size, but this was because the glass plates were small, this phenomenon being governed by the laws of optics and not those of electricity. The secret of the wonderful invention lies in the sensitiveness of selenium to the effects of light. When a ray of light falls on a plate of selenium the electric conductivity of the metal changes. Mr. Korzel uses a plate covered with a composition which he calls bromide of selenium gelatine for "collecting" the image of the person using the telephone, which is then transmitted by the same wire that conducts the sound of his voice and thrown, apparently without the use of any further apparatus, on a glass plate at the other end. In this way the persons using the telephone cannot only hear but see each other.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

DIED.

Miss Irene Beer, age 15 years, and 7 months, died in Virginia City yesterday. She will be buried at 7 o'clock p. m. today. She was the daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Beer, and had gone to Virginia City on a visit when she died. She was a native of Empire where she will be buried. Diphtheria was the cause of her death.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

People in general should know what's best to do in case of a sudden attack of bowel complaint. It is a well established fact that prompt relief may be had in any case of colic, cholera morbus, dysentery or diarrhoea by giving a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It acts quickly, can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.
